

ANNA EMERSON Comedy Writer & Performer

In 2013, Anna won the BAFTA Rocliffe sitcom competition with writing partner Lizzie Bates. Their winning script was performed at the New York TV Festival as part of the 'Future of British Comedy' showcase, and has since been optioned.

As one third of critically acclaimed sketch group The Boom Jennies, Anna co-wrote and co-starred in the BBC Radio 4 sitcom Mission Improbable in 2012 and is currently working on series two.

She has also appeared in BBC Radio 4's Sketchorama, written sketches for ITV's Off Their Rockers and is a frequent feature of cult podcast The John Dredge Nothing To Do With Anything Show.

Anna performed her debut solo show, An Evening with Patti DuPont, at the Edinburgh Fringe in August 2014, achieving four star reviews and coverage in the Guardian and The Times.
